Description: High quality accounts and auditing solutions to help you cut costs, save tax and grow your business | Phone 01793 741600 or visit us online

Keywords: accounts and audit, accounts and audits, accounts and audits regulations

H1: Accounts and Audit

The highly professional team at d&t has the expertise to prepare accounts for sole traders, partnerships, limited companies and LLP's to ensure every statutory requirement is met.

From bookkeeping and preparation of all personal and corporate accounts and VAT returns – our team will take the weight off your shoulders so you can focus on other more important tasks.

We can also produce detailed audit reports to support your accounts whether you choose to have your financial statements audited or the law requires it.

However, as you'd expect from a progressive company such as d&t, we like to take the whole process beyond mere compliance with accounts and audits regulations.

Our skilled accounts and auditing consultants have years of experience across many different sectors in identifying the underlying trends that are crucial to your company's success.

To help your company see the wood for the trees, we use your baseline accounting figures as a platform to save tax, identify potential risks and inspire growth in your organization.

Much more than just the preparation of your paperwork, our high quality accounts and audits service provides the perfect opportunity to analyse how your business works - cutting costs where necessary whilst also focusing on areas of future improvement.

Unlike other accountancy firms, our professionals are extremely adept at looking beyond the figures to add extra value to the whole process of compliance. Where many see just numbers - we see opportunities for your business to thrive.

Keywords: business planning, business planning services, business plan preparation

H1: Business Planning Services

If you need a one size fits all business plan that fails to inspire either you or your bank manager – then look elsewhere. Because here at d&t, we like to do things a little differently when it comes to providing professional business planning services.

When reviewing your finances and business model as a means of driving future growth, the last thing you need is a bland document that turns your investors cold. That's why we encourage our clients to hold regular business planning sessions to ensure you adhere to a clear and actionable roadmap.

When preparing your bespoke business plan, our skilled specialists will sit down with you and play devil's advocate to really understand what makes your company tick. As an independent body looking at your company from the outside in, we can then quickly ascertain what you're trying to achieve and how close you are to fulfilling your goals.

Our consultants are trained to ask the demanding questions necessary to identify what your organization is doing right, and equally where you can improve – so we can inform you future direction with a confidence and clarity that will not only impress third party investors, but also reinvigorate your internal team. Our specialists will:

- Formulate and implement long-term strategic goals
- Set concrete operational objectives
- Monitor performance and adjust plans accordingly

Having a clear direction and well-honed business strategy is the key to long-term success, that's why our clients welcome our unique, firm but fair approach to analysing your company and confidently preparing the foundations for sustained growth.

H1: Insolvency Services

At d&t, we take a pre-emptive approach to insolvency risk, picking up financial problems within your business some six months before administration rears its head.

In this way, we like to view our insolvency services as more of a 'business turnaround' solution – designed to help your business recover in the face of challenging trading conditions.

An understandably emotional time for you and your colleagues, defining honestly whether your business is viable and laying a roadmap for recovery is no mean feat – but our specialist team are experienced in paying off debt and making the cuts necessary to avoid insolvency.

If we get to you early enough, our highly skilled insolvency consultants can help put your mind at rest by dealing with the core issues facing your continued successful operation, advising on realistic growth strategies before liquidation becomes a real option.

And if the financial difficulties facing your business do become too much, our personable professionals are always on hand to talk you through your options with regard to IVA's, CVA's and bankruptcy itself.

Often in such circumstances, business owners are relieved to discover they have more choices open to them than they first envisaged, and d&t will support you through the whole process.

H1: Management Accounting

It's not just any chartered accountancy firm that offers to be your 'virtual finance director' off the back of preparing your monthly, quarterly or six monthly management accounts. But such attention to your financial detail is what sets d&t apart.

Rather than just preparing standard accounts like every other firm does, we go a few steps further by drafting company specific reports to highlight where the figures suggest your business can improve, and what you need to do in order to get there.

We use various key performance indicators, visual graphing and detailed 'what if' scenarios, to outline where you are now and what you'll achieve if you implement our changes.

To produce your bespoke financial report – the perfect complement to your required management accounts – one of our highly qualified specialists will sit down with you and leave no stone unturned in understanding how your business operates.

From here we'll compile your tailored report, pointing out where you could be in future if your growth structure follows our roadmap to success.

The ideal tool with which to inspire your board, investors and senior team, our advanced management accounting service is a unique solution that makes d&t the partner of choice to take your business forward.

Keywords: tax compliance, tax compliance services, business tax compliance

H1: Tax Compliance Services

At d&t, business tax compliance is so much more than just filling in your return and submitting it. Naturally, we have the specialist experience necessary to prepare all your personal and corporate tax returns in a timely fashion – but yet again our approach goes far beyond merely complying with the latest legislation.

Our skilled tax consultants use your baseline accounting figures to assist with a full review of your tax planning, putting in place the details of future years' compliance and helping you save tax along the way.

Undergoing a full analysis of your finances, we'll determine the most efficient tax structure for you and your business in order to:

- Minimise your personal and corporation tax liabilities
- Make the most of any available reliefs, tax losses and deferment opportunities
- Ensure you meet all your personal and CTSA deadlines and file your returns correctly, thereby avoiding any potential penalties

H2: HMRC Inspections

Acting as a middleman between your business and HM Revenue and Customs, our experts can also offer valuable advice when the spectre of tax inspections present themselves. An understandably stressful time for you and your organisation, our full HMRC enquiries service will give you complete peace of mind.

Our stringent quality control processes and highly organised internal accounting systems mean we have a good relationship with the HMRC, and as such enjoy a very low rate of Government investigation into our clients' financial affairs.

And when you do face the prospect of an enquiry by HM Revenue and Customs, we have an excellent track record of arguing for every penny – leaving you to get on with running your business while we fight your corner.

Title: Accounting Software Training | Dennis & Turnbull Chartered Accountants

Description: Book our bespoke accounting software training courses | Phone 01793 741600 or visit us online

Keywords: accounting software training, accounting software coaching, accounting software courses

H1: Accounting Software Training

At d&t, we appreciate that keeping track of your accounts can be a daunting and time consuming task, that's why we've designed our accounting software courses to help you make the most of your systems, whatever software you're using.

We offer tailored training packages on the following popular accounting software:

- Xero – A fantastic online system with an easy to use bank statement importing function and plenty of useful reports. This software is designed with 'non-accountants' in mind, providing intuitive functions that will give you more time to focus on what's important to your business.
- Sage – A commonly used package with lots to offer the larger business. This system offers extensive reporting, customer and supplier ledger management and comprehensive support packages. A more traditional accounting package, this system is familiar to most accountants.
- Bespoke packages – If you're not sure what system to use, come and talk to us. We'll listen to your business needs and help you find just the right package.

When it comes to delivering our accounting software training, one size doesn't fit all. Each business is unique and as such we've tailored a range of training options with your precise needs in mind:

- Group sessions and webinars – An 'off the shelf' session covering the key aspects of your chosen package. This can also be offered over the Internet as a 'webinar'.
- One on one – Either face to face or over the telephone, this session will be tailored to your business, helping you get the most out of your software.
- Website videos – We've designed some high quality training videos available to watch online which will cover commonly asked questions. These may also act as a quick recap after your initial training session.

To book one of our accounting software training sessions, call now on 01793 741600 or email office@dennisandturnbull.com

H1: Mergers and Acquisitions

Headed by our highly experienced corporate finance consultant, Julian Gillett FCCA, our mergers and acquisitions team are among the top tier of UK business consultants who specialise in bespoke transactional services. A niche team dedicated solely to the needs of this sector, d&t are well placed to provide a personal, focused and high value solution.

If you're considering expanding your business through a merger or acquisition, it's always advisable to seek professional assistance before the event, to ensure your interests are best represented in any subsequent transaction.

In this context, Julian and his dedicated colleagues can help you set up or buy any type of business, negotiating with all parties on your behalf to secure the best deal possible. Our service includes:

- Strategic planning to determine suitable acquisition criteria
- Identifying suitable candidate companies
- Conducting feasibility studies
- Developing a negotiating strategy
- Performing financial and operational due diligence
- Preparing the necessary financial projections
- Identifying potential finance sources
- Preparing and presenting finance applications
- Assisting with negotiations
- Assisting with post-acquisition integration

It's equally important to seek professional advice when disposing of a business. In this capacity, we can help you by valuing assets, preparing the business for sale, finding suitable purchasers and negotiating the sale itself. Above all, we can help you time the disposal to minimise your tax exposure.

Title: Wealth Management | Dennis & Turnbull Chartered Accountants

Description: Wealth management services combining IFA & tax accountancy solutions | Call 01793 741600 or visit us online

Keywords: wealth management, wealth management advice, wealth management financial planning

H1: Wealth Management

When it comes to wealth management, d&t wears the twin hats of both skilled tax accountant and experienced IFA – to deliver the complete solution for making the most of your money.

Offering wealth management and financial planning advice for both your personal and business affairs, our expert team are well placed to provide bespoke services that both help your wealth grow whilst protecting your property and investments.

Our wealth management advice covers three main areas, and one of our consultants can sit down with you to discuss our services relating to any combination of the following:

- Mortgages – Our impartial, independent advice can be based on your existing accounts if you're already our client. We take care of all the administration and set-up tasks involved in either mortgaging or re-mortgaging your property – ensuring you get the right deal at the right price and interest rate.
- Investments – Our consultants are uniquely positioned to advise you on what type of investment vehicles are suitable for your portfolio. We can also offer a new fee based IFA service to business clients looking to implement the new NEST pension scheme legislation.
- Protection – From life insurance to will writing, we'll analyse the health of your finances to develop the most efficient wealth management and tax planning strategies available – protecting your money and helping your net worth grow.

Many clients who choose our combined tax accountancy and IFA wealth management solution have previously had to deal with two or more companies to achieve the same results.

Our 'one-stop-shop' approach to wealth management services comes as a breath of fresh air to discerning individuals and companies who are looking to maximise the return from their property and investments.
